Monthly Meetings

BPW/Tallahassee meets the second Thursday of each month at the Brokaw-McDougall House, 329 N. Meridian Street. We alternate lunch and dinner meetings. Speakers present personal, political, or professional issues important to women. Cost is $5 to attend and not eat; $12 member attending and eating; $15 nonmember attending and eating. RSVP at www.bpwtallahassee.com.

Quarterly Networking Socials

BPW/Tallahassee hosts quarterly networking socials at a member's business. The social is sponsored by a local business. This is a great way to get to know people in the Tallahassee area in a relaxed, low pressure atmosphere. Cost is free to members and $10 for visitors. RSVP at www.bpwtallahassee.com.

Empower working women—join BPW today!

the power of connecting

Connect with mentors, colleagues and friends at local programs, signature events, and state conventions, who can assist you in advancing your career and making the right connections.

Thrive professionally with an organization that supports women throughout career transitions and at different levels of industry.

Stay informed on the latest issues impacting women with complimentary subscriptions to magazines and newsletters and exclusive member access to the extensive resources on the BPW website.

the power of voices united

Leverage our influence. BPW has a track record of influencing legislation that impacts women and families from VAWA to FMLA to Johanna's Law.

Support effective legislative representation on national issues critical to working women – equal pay, small business interests, quality health care, workplace flexibility, Social Security and other workplace equity and work-life issues. Lobby your state and federal legislators through BPW's powerful lobbying program.

the power to help others

BPW was founded in 1919 with a grant from the U.S. government on the premise of women helping women.

Empower working women by working to advance our legislative platform to ensure we are all represented and our issues are addressed.

Women Joining Forces is a program created to assist women veterans in their transition from military service into the civilian workforce. BPW is the only non-governmental agency offering support to this deserving group of women.

the power to change

Be on the cutting-edge of legislation impacting women and their families. BPW's public policy committee works with legislators to shape policies that improve workplaces and empower working women.

Raise public awareness around changing workplaces through signature events, including National Business Women's Week® and Equal Pay Day.
